

Eloise Stalk

August 2, 1931 - October 7, 2020

She has planted trees of life that will live on her legacy. May you soar with angel's wings in Heaven and shine down upon your offspring.

Eloise Stalk, 89, of Portsmouth, RI, passed away Wednesday (October 7, 2020) at Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center in Pennsylvania.

Upon retirement in December 1999, she and Johnson moved to Portsmouth, RI and resided there to present. Eloise continued her faithful work and became a member of the First Congregational Church in Bristol, RI where she organized and directed their church bazaar for many years which raised record donations. Lastly, she was a long-time member of the Women's Guild which provided fund raising and charity work for the church.

“ I am very lucky to have had Eloise as my aunt. She lit up the room and had a way of always making people feel, welcome, like royalty, and loved. One of my favorite memories is of the summer my daughter Jessica and I visited Eloise, Johnson, and Celeste on the Vineyard. What a treat! Swimming. Fishing. Lounging on the front porch. Eating. And boy did we eat. Eloise and Johnson would spend hours harvesting clams for the night's feast of stuffies. We would lose count of how many we ate. Of course it was inconceivable to buy clams...only the best would do. Then there was the summer I visited and she drove me to horseback riding lessons every day, even though she had 4 kids of her own to wrangle. There's not enough space here to hold all the warm memories that I'll never forget. Sending love and peace to all the family.

“ Eloise will always have a piece of my heart. When I lost my mom (I was 36) she was the one who was ALWAYS there for me.. she was the one who was there when I had questions about the kids... she was the one I could confide in, cry to, celebrate with. Mom, words can not describe the loss in my heart yet I also feel you with me everyday. You are missed but your love and legacy live on.... until I see you again

“ I had the privilege and pleasure of working with Eloise on church bazaars at First Congregational Church in Bristol and considered her a friend. She made the process fun-even though it was a lot of work! I want to send my love to John and the whole family. She was incredible and will be missed. Dyan Vaughan

“ I have never had the honor to meet you, nor to create a memory of our own. I have two brothers of my own. Your son's Bryan and Darren are both two of the greatest guys that I have met. They are a true testament to you as a Mother and a strong woman. I can only imagine them as young boys. RIP Mrs. Stalk.

“ Mrs Stalk ... I had no idea of all that you accomplished in your life, but I knew you had to be someone quite special because you are Darren's Momma and he is quite a good man. Rest In Peace, sweet lady “ Eloise... aka "mom" was truly a second mom to me. She was an amazing, wife, mother, business person, friend and human. She welcomed me into her family as her un-adopted 4th son. For sure I was a constant, probably many times too constant a fixture hanging around the Stalk household-- Yet she never seemed to mind even after as a hungry teenager I proceeded to clean out the frig. I loved sailing with her, JT and the rest of the family and so many Cape Cod stories. Its been a few years since I last saw her but the memories I have of her will last my lifetime. I read a quote once that has struck with me...

Carve your name on hearts, not tombstones. A legacy is etched into the mind of others and the stories they share about you. 'Shannon L. Alder"

Eloise carved her names on all our hearts. You will be missed forever. Godspeed.
