“ It's hard to express just how much you have done for me in my life, because you have done so much for me, you were not only my mother, but you were my best friend, a friend that I knew that I would always have and still do. Even though you are gone, you are still with me. I know you are there, you always will be, no matter what room I'm sitting in, I know that you are there, sitting close beside me.

Here is a poem that I found, in memory of you:

"Memories" by Loise Bailey

I feel a warmth around me like your presence is near,
And I close my eyes to visualize your face when you were here,
I endear the times we spent together and they are lock inside my heart,
For as long as I have those memories we will never be apart,
Even though we cannot speak anymore your voice is always there,
Because every night before I sleep I have you in my prayers.

“ You've touched the heart of many and helped out so many others, you watched me as I went from a timid child to a strong young man that you could be proud of, you helped me along the way in anyway that you could and I owe just as much to you as I do to my own parents for the man that I became today.

This isn't a "Goodbye", I know you're not really gone, you never left me, you never left anyone else either, you're still there, with all of us, every person whose heart that you have touched, you're still there. Every morning that I awaken, I know you're there, you're there with me, you're there with everyone.

Each step that I take forward in my life, I owe a lot of that to you, because you helped define the man that I have become, a man that you could be proud of, and a woman that I looked at with nothing but respect for everything that she has done not only for myself, but for everyone. You've taught me a lot of things, things that I could never forget, things I'm improving on more and more as time goes on, it's because of you that I really started to take an interest in cooking, and I've found a love for that.

A "Thank you." in my mind, wouldn't do justice, it wouldn't express my real gratitude to you, it never could, but I know, you'd take it, with a smile on your face and tell me just how proud you are of me.

You'll always be in my heart Mémère and you'll always be right beside me always.

“ Connie and Paul,
I am at a loss for adequate words to express my sadness for you. Heaven just received a special angel. Your mother was such an amazing person and she will truly be missed. My condolences.
