“ I first met Chuck in the early 90's when I joined the Spartans. Over the years I found Chuck to be the most dedicated Spartan to the point his middle name should have been Spartan. I worked with him on the By-Laws committee for many years and he was a wealth of knowledge and is leaving a void in the club that will never be filled. I inherited his Spartan records and I'm amazed at how much stuff he had.

We also enjoyed good times away from the club, especially when he flew with me, which he really enjoyed.

I will truly miss him.

God Bless!!!

“ There are many people who will miss Chuck and his contributions to the Spartans Veterans Athletic Club. Nobody knew more about the Club and cared about its well being than Chuck. He was the legal and moral compass by which all members were guided. God help the president who stepped out of line at a membership meeting, trying to do something that couldn't be done under the rules. He would hear from Chuck, who was always there, always on top of everything, and always with the experience to back it up.

Although I only knew him for about seven years, and only knew him well for the past year, he was the one person I always knew I could trust and would have the right answer. He got me involved with the board of directors and nominated me to be president. I am forever grateful to him. I will miss him terribly.

So long good friend. Please introduce yourself to my mother in heaven, and tell her all is OK.
