“ With deepest sympathy remembering your mother. As a friend of Tom, Mrs. Lopes always welcomed me into her home in New Britain, there was usually something cooking and cookies and pizzelles offered when visiting after school. I know she was in great hands in her later years with the support provided by her family.

“ Concetta (I never knew she went by Irene) was my mom’s roommate at Touchpoints. I was so very sad to see her empty bed this afternoon when I went to visit. My mom is non verbal, so our visits are always bittersweet, but the bright spot of those visits has been seeing Concetta. She always had such a big smile, always happy to see me & my puppy, who adored Concetta too. My puppy would lick Concetta’s hand in her excitement to see her friend. Concetta would ask me how things were, “down the Cape,” and told me how she loved going there. She showed me pictures of her family and spoke so lovingly about her sons & grandchildren. I can only imagine what a tremendous loss she is to you all. My sincere condolences to your family.
