“ I was thinking about Gus today, and have just discovered that he passed 3 years ago. I met Gus in 2013 at a Middlesex Chamber event. We had breakfast together and spent the next couple of years on how to do business together at Ivy Bound. He was a true gentleman and we are all better and happier individuals having known Gus
God Bless,

“ Dear Betty,

I was saddened to hear about the passing of Gus. I spent many happy conversations with you about our families, our children and our grandchildren during our time together at Kingswood Oxford. I enjoyed the few conversations I had with Gus at our concerts. May your many happy memories and family bolster you during this very sad time. I do hope we get to see other again sometime.

“ Gus was a tremendous asset to students and parents here at Ivy Bound. He took a job here as he was turning 70 (I had no idea of age, literally until now) and worked steadfastly, and with zeal into his 80s - no let-up, no accommodations, just always one of the team. That shows a passion that's hard to match.

I pray that I'll be as sprightly 30 years from now.

Gus was also an asset to Ivy Bound staffers - he was on the lookout to improve circumstances so we could do better work, in more comfort.

And Gus was an asset to me personally... from helping "the single guy" get out more, to dressing better, to being more aware of news around me, Gus routinely helped me with face-to-face talks and little articles that would appear on my desk.

I am grateful for our time together. He surely enhanced the lives of many more people who have been with him.

Rest Peacefully.

“ To Mary and the rest of the Demady family: I am so saddened to learn of Gus' passing. Gus and I grew up in the same neighborhood and we went all through school together. I remember so fondly spending time at his home so many years ago, where his mom always had a snack ready for us. I remember Mary, his parents, and of course, the Billy Burns shop. I last saw Gus at our 60th reunion back in 2011. Please accept my deepest sympathy and know that you are all in my thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

“ I'd like to send this message of condolence to Betty Demady. She and Gus were so supportive of my family when we relocated to Connecticut years ago. Gus was a true family man and he always seemed so delighted with his children and grandchildren. A kind and accomplished man. I am so very sorry my friend. ❤️

“ Gus was so encouraging, even via email! He remembered my pursuits outside of tutoring and always asked about them.
