“ David is the type of guy that made me want to become a barber. Always, always in a great mood. He knew just what to say when to say it. I had the pleasure of taking care of David at least once a month for close to 5 years and we really shared a lot of intimate conversations and moments. He will truly always be apart of me and I'll miss him walking into the barbershop. Watching Red Sox games wont be the same knowing I wont have David to over analyze everything with. Rest easy my friend and go Sox

“ I don't have memory of my life without knowing Dave. We lived on the same street, and our parents were friends. We went to the same schools growing up, as well as entering Central as Freshman and graduating together. We attended the same church as well. We played basketball and softball for First Lutheran for what seemed like an eternity. Our lives ran parallel. We raised our kids in the same town, and had great pride in our families. I looked forward to the Erickson Newsletter at Christmas. Always taking comfort reading it, learning Dave was doing well. We spoke every once in a while, just to catch up. Over the past year, we spoke and exchanged texts more than ever. Our plan was to get our families together, sit on the dock, and enjoy a few cold ones. We missed that opportunity this past Summer unfortunately. However, I'll sit on that dock, and toast you my dear friend Dave. Thanking you for a life long friendship.

To Julie, Ryan, and Lindsay, Dave loved you guys so strong. He always spoke of how proud he was of each of you, and how lucky he was to have such a great family!

My heart breaks for you. I'm truly sorry.

“Dave and I first met a few months before we started kindergarten at Northend School in New Britain. The first time I heard the then-new Sgt Peppers album was in Dave's bedroom. I don't know how many times I played in that house or in the yard with Dave and Nancy. Hundreds, I guess. We just kind of drifted apart as we got older, as friends sometimes do. The last time I saw Dave was more than 20 years ago. We talked for a good while, and laughed about the old days. I'm so glad I ran into him. For what it's worth, this stranger extends his condolences to Dave's family.

“ It is rare in life to meet someone that almost immediately becomes a best friend; someone that you trust, someone you can share your best and worst moments/experiences, and one that makes you better as a person. Dave was that times 10...this was even more rare since we were work colleagues, however, everyday Dave always brought his endearing smile, optimism, and dedication as a friend regardless of the situation. I will be forever blessed having known Dave and been truly blessed calling him a great friend. I am sure everyone he met and touched is better for that opportunity - the world is a better place today because of Dave.

“ Dave was much more than a client to me; he was a good friend. I'll never forget how he had his kids bring me Thanksgiving dinner when I was working at the office. He supported me when times were tough and did much to help me. I was hoping he and Julie would retire to Florida so we could play golf together. I am deeply saddened by his passing. May God comfort your family and take Dave swiftly to Heaven. ”
