“ A loss of your mother is probably one of the most difficult things you have or will encounter in your life. When your mother is gone away from you, it feels like your heart and soul is broken in two. I lost my mother yesterday. It was a long battle for her and now she can rest. My parents were probably the single most important compass in my life as they are with many of us. My heart goes out to everyone who doesn't have the physical presence of their mom with them. For the rest of you, reach out today and tell them how much they are loved.
