“ I remember Uncle Earl when I was much younger and whenever we were with him, he was always quiet and a very nice and gentle man, I've always respected and remember him because of his loving way! Sad for the loss to his family

Grandpa Earl and grandma Marvis were such an important part of my life growing up. After I turned 10, we all lived in the same housing development, and I would see them nearly every day for years. In many ways they helped raise me. Grandpa was someone I truly looked up to, and I learned so much from him. He was a kind and gentle man, and though he was soft spoken, his words carried such wisdom and purpose. I still speak with the same thoughtfulness and respect I learned from him. I loved him and will miss him very much.
