“ Emily was my aunt and, for several years, my guardian. She was kind, loving and her generosity knew no bounds. She was an excellent cook, baker and seamstress. Her talents were always family oriented; from typing her brother Al's thesis and baking his three-layer wedding cake to sewing a dress for her sister Liz from one glance at a picture in a magazine. She cleverly designed and made dresses for her daughter Betty and me. Her talent and giving nature are a continuing inspiration to me. I was so blessed to have so loving an aunt as Millie. Although she has passed on, my memories are indelible.

“ All the fun we had as kids-picking grapes in the back yard on Curtis Street, spooky stories with Martin on Crown Street, Halloween with the organ at 179. We had a wonderful childhood. May God Bless You.

“ It was always nice to see Emily in the audience for George's Stage One shows. She would come up to me afterwards and give me the sweetest compliments. She was always very kind to me. My thoughts are with the family.
