“ Henry was indeed an inspiration to us all. He had big shoes to fill, thrust upon himself. True collegiate members of H.W.C.G. were saved by the preceding Henry. Often confused by newcomers, the Henry we loved and remember took everything in stride with a level of humility that remains unparalleled. His consistence and simplicity is all I needed to see and count on in some of my most trying moments, as I am sure that was shared by others. His love for life and the dedication to his wife should be a staple for folks in and outside of the program. The life lessons and insight of what really matters resonates within me and will be passed on to my own children. Sitting in the same booth each day he would simply say: "I am here, because I do not want to drink today, this is where I get my medicine and so far it has been a pretty good day. "I'll pass with that." You will be missed my friend. Godspeed! -Sterling
