“ After being out of school for 13 years Professor Joseph was one of the first professors, I took at CCSU. I was scared, nervous, older, and a lot slower than the other student's. Professor Joseph would stay after class as long as I needed to to help me with anything I needed. He always went over and above for his students. Professor Joseph taught my class at night , and we all fought to stay awake, including professor Joseph on occasion. Once, two kids in my class brought a full sized hammock to class and set it up. When he walked into class and seen the student on the hammock. His look was priceless. He was speechless he covered his mouth, shook his head, and rubbed his head. Then he looked up and smiled and sat on the desk to begin class. That student stayed on the hammock the entire class. The visual of him teaching, and the student swinging back and forth on a hammock made the entire class laugh and economics became fun. Every time I saw professor Joseph around campus he would give me a huge comforting hug and ask me how are you doing. Then he would lovingly make fun of my math skill's and tell me you should take Microeconomics. I am blessed, and honored to have known professor Joseph. He was brilliant, honorable, caring, and funny. I hope this message will help comfort, everyone who read's it. May God bless, Professor Joseph's family and friend's.

“ So sorry for your loss. I know the past several days have been most difficult for you. Some one gave me this when my Mom passed and it has stuck with me forever. I hope you can enjoy the meaning of it as I do to this day. Know my prayers and thoughts are with you.

It is very difficult at first, but after awhile it's like a room in your house. When you want to, you can go into the room and enjoy the memories, and then, when you are ready, you can leave and close the door behind you. The room is always there for you to re-enter when you feel the need. For the time Jerry walked this earth, know, he brought much love and joy to all those around him and his family and friends. And he was loved in return. He touched the hearts, and lives of his family and others. He will always remain in the hearts of those people he touched.

May God give you comfort during this time.

“ Jerry - wherever you are now - you were complaining about this coming August - Saturn conjunct Saturn and Sun conjunct Saturn at the same time. I had no idea that it was going to be that bad for you. Sorry you had to leave so soon. I expect you are in a better place now.

“ I will always remember Jerry's great smile and easy going personality. Going for rides in his corvette, poolside in Southington. Taking his gun class. Wonderful memories..I am still in shock to think he has passed away. May memories of Jerry comfort Family and Friends at this difficult time.
