

Jessie Robar Flanders

May 7, 1930 - March 31, 2012

Jessie Robar Flanders, 81, of Plainville, passed away Saturday March 31, 2012 at her home surrounded by her family. Born in Somerville, MA, Jessie was a former New Britain resident until moving to Plainville in 1969. She was employed at the Constructive Workshop in New Britain with Dr. Lee, Dr. MacIntosh and Mr. Oliver, which later became C.W. Resources until her final employment at Nickson Industries in Plainville. She was a member of the Congregational Church of Plainville; volunteered at the Plainville Girls Home, volunteered in the nursery, kitchen and craft work at the church; volunteered in the Plainville Thrift Shop; and was a former member of the Plainville Historical Society. Jessie was happiest when she volunteered her time with numerous organizations and when she was surrounded by children.

Surviving is a son, John H. Dombroski of New Britain; a daughter, Sandra Dombroski of Plainville; two grandchildren, Julie M. Little of Mountain Home, Arkansas; and Brian Gorneault of New Britain; two brothers, Ralph Robar of East Hartford; and Joseph Robar of Plainville; and a sister, Mildred McQuirk of Willimantic. She was predeceased by a son, Charles Dombroski; a daughter, Rose Mary Dombroski; a granddaughter, Taylor Rose Dombroski; and a sister, Ann Coco.

“ God's Promise
God never promised a life without pain,
Laughter without tears or sun without rain.
But He did promise strength for the day,
Comfort for the tears and the light for the way,
And for all who believe In His Heaven above
He rewards their faith In His everlasting love.

“ Dear Grandma Jessie,

*When I think of love, I think of you
How love's bright flame illuminated your spirit*

*Love, the purest energy
Is neither created, nor destroyed
But simply transformed and transferred from one to another,
Physics taught me that*

But you lived it.

*You greeted everyone you ever met with unconditional, unending love, generosity, and acceptance.
And though I feel unworthy, I can't thank you enough
For loving me, in spite of myself.*

*You lived in faith, in wisdom and in love.
Death does not diminish that.
Your spirit will endure in those whose lives you touched
And in your honor we'll do our best to live your love
And pass it on*

*Thank you God, for sharing your angel.
I'll miss you, Grandma.*

“ Sandra,

I was so saddened to hear of your mom's passing. She was an amazing and wonderful person with a heart of gold. I was fortunate to have had her as a client and will miss her. May God bless her and keep her. My condolences to you and your family.
