Tribute Wall

“ Oh Wow, This is so very sad for me.

I was married to his big brother Peter. John came to visit us one Summer in Leadville.

We hiked into a roadless area and found the most beautiful beaver pond, with fish, and birds and incredible scenery. Back then, you did not have to hike very far out of town to find a mountain paradise.

I also remember driving from Leadville to Stapleton Airport for him to return home to the East Coast. He had some great advise on how to get my aging Volkswagen up and out through the Eisenhower Tunnel without killing the old engine.

I'm sorry to say, even to this day, my marriage to Peter didn't last. He was my only true love.

After Peter and I divorced, I kept on touch with John for years.

John struggled with an illness, and was not easy to communicate with in the best of times.

I kept in touch, until the late 80's when my first son, Channing was born.

I'm sorry to admit, I quit the letters to John.

Never, will I forget the unique and important relationship I had with the brilliant mild and kind person that was John.

He was a huge comfort and great friend to me.

I'm not sure anyone will find this, but if you do, know I never eve forgot John, RoseMary, Peter, Greg, and especially Jill and Mark.

Love,

Anne
