“ I remember Mr. Eveleth when I used to go to the bank for my father in the 50's and 60's and then in the past few years when he would come to the movie theater in Berlin. He remembered my dad and was surprised that I remembered him. Told him that he hadn't changed. I was so sorry to read of his passing. A gentleman to the end.

“ In 1978 John gave us a mortgage on our home. In 1979 my wife and I both fell ill and had serious surgeries and I couldn't work. I went to John and told him I couldn't pay my mortgage so if he had to foreclose I would understand. He told me to go home and get well and not worry about it. He said I was a good customer and to call when I could work. Three months later I returned to work and caught up. I've never forgotten his kindness and understanding. Those were the days when you were a customer and not a number. Rest in peace my friend.
