“ I have many pleasant memories of your mother and was sorry to hear of her death.

I remember standing in her kitchen when she had just been married and watching her sew pajamas. I was amazed, my mother only used our sewing machine for mending. I also remember her visiting us when I was home sick in 1949 and my mother remarking she was eating for 2. I later asked my mother if "Aunt Louise" was having twins. She said no just having a baby. So when were you girls born? I always felt I predicted it.

I am so sorry for your loss. We are never prepared for death.
