“ Growing up, I have many fond memories of Marie. As a child our families spent many weekends and holiday dinners together. I remember Marie being always perfectly coiffed, her makeup applied perfectly, her costume jewelry chosen carefully for each occasion and her clothing always immaculate. Her food was something I always looked forward to. It was perhaps Marie's culinary expertise that sparked my interest in cooking.

I remember Marie made her own applesauce when my mother just opened a jar of Mott's. I must have asked Marie for her recipe all the time. She always refused to give it to me. Yes, Marie was a bit of a wiseguy. It was one of her many endearing characteristics. Even after I learned the fundamentals of cooking I always liked to ask for her recipes, secretly relishing her quiet humor, when my request was inevitably shot down in flames. Marie was a force of nature. When she walked into a room, she commanded your attention. She had a laugh that would bring a smile to any face. Her eyes sparkled with her thoughtful intelligence, a playful mirth and a deep loving soul.

My life is much richer for having Debi, Randy, Elza and Beautiful Marie in it. While I mourn Marie's passing, I know that Marie is sitting on the Right side of God in Heaven, bring a smile to God's lips and you know what? I guarantee she is refusing to give God her recipe for Homemade Applesauce.

“ Marie Fleisher was one of my Mother's very good friends and her husband, Elza, was a World War 2 buddy of my Father's. Our family spent many years together sharing many weekends, holidays and memories. I grew up with Marie's two lovely children, Randy and Debi, so I remember the family with great fondness and Love. My memories of Marie are one of a great cook and a beautiful woman; always perfectly coiffed and immaculately dressed with ever-present costume jewelry, perfect makeup and a broad, radiant smile. I always looked forward to seeing my two friends and their Ma and Pa. Some of my fondest childhood memories include Marie, her infectious laugh and her home-made applesauce which she always refused to give me the recipe to, even years later when I finally learned to cook. The world is an emptier place without Marie in it. Even with such a sad, heavy heart I would rather grieve for this lovely, gracious woman's passing than never to have Loved her at all. I know she is now sitting at the right hand of God, making him smile. May God bless and keep the Fleisher family through this difficult time.
