“ Ron, Stephanie and Andrea -- My deepest condolences. Having worked side by side with Marsha for many years, I got to know her well. And I saw firsthand what a wonderful, strong, hard-working woman she was. She loved her family, and her pets, and no matter what was going on in the office, or in her life -- good or bad -- her attitude was the same: Upbeat. I can't put all my thoughts about Marsha into words. She was just a bright light in an oftentimes bleak world, and I will miss her. -- Nick Carroll

“ Ron, I just learned of Marsha’s passing on and am deeply saddened. As you know, we were neighbors and friends since the Stanwood Circle days 60 years ago. My family cherished the Wardner clan and enjoyed our times together. Honest, hardworking, sincere, humble, kind, charitable, funny and always fun to be around, they were. Marsha was a rare and bright flower whom I always will love and be grateful for. You are a fortunate man, Ron, and yet I am so sorry for the loss you and your family have sustained, and that by Debbie and hers. Marsha’s spirit is reflected in the beautiful family you created. May you feel her touch forever. (I will) Ted Parsons.

“ You were a wonderful friend and I will miss our talks and your wise words of wisdom. Your laugh and positive attitude towards everything in life was an inspiration, you didn't show your struggle and lifted everyone up when they were down. I will miss you so much.... I cannot believe what I am reading. Marsha was truly one of the kindest and loyal people I have ever met in my life. She helped anyone who ever needed it and most time at her own expense. I could not have done any of the things I did at the Berlin citizen without having her in my corner she was truly the backbone of that newspaper. I am stunned and so sad that I will not be able to see her again.
