“ *Vinny,
I know we weren't very close and really haven't seen eachother much in the last passing years. But that doesn't make the love I have for you any weaker. That's the special thing about family it doesn't matter what you do or how often you see eachother or speak to one another it never changes you're still family. I love you and I'll always treasure the few and precious memories that I sure with you.*
