“ I have known Bill for nearly three years beginning with his stay on T3W at VACT in August 2010. Bill was unique but if you were lucky enough to gain his trust, he was extremely loyal. I'll never forget one time he smiled at me with his twinkling blue eyes and said, "you know, I can be quite charming". And I certainly agreed. Unfortunately he suffered from many illnesses that caused him anxiety and pain. So when we shared a real hearty laugh, it was a treat to witness. We talked often about his cats and they along with his devoted friend Will were a great comfort to him. I know I will miss him dearly and I only hope that he is at peace.
